

Peco Lift Side Guards

Background Information

For low level access the Peco Lift is a very useful MEWP especially as it is not electrically powered and so does not require the same level of training as a powered MEWP.

However as with mobile towers and podiums, operatives often seem to want to gain that extra bit of height by standing on the toe boards and mid-rails. A reoccurring issue seen across the industry.

To ensure the safe operation each and every time, we have worked with the hire company, who engaged a steel fabricator to design and fabricate bespoke anti-climb guards.

These side guards can be fitted to all such machines to remove the possibility of standing upon toes guards or the mid-rails.

These guards are now readily available to hire from The Hire Station at an extra £1.00 per day (Apr 2020) on top of any normal hire costs.
